1. List three factors that account for the rapid growth of the world's human population over the past 200 years.
2. What five countries had the largest numbers of people in 2010?
3. Describe ways in which we have used technology to alter nature to meet our growing needs and wants.
4. Explain why reaching the replacement-level fertility rate will not stop global population growth until about 50 years have passed (assuming that death rates do not rise).
5. Describe what has happened since 1950 to total fertility rates in the world, in China, and in the United States.
6. Describe population growth in the United States and explain why it is high compared to those of most other more-developed countries and China. Is the United States over-populated? Explain.
7. List factors that can affect the birth rate and fertility rate of a country.
8. Why does the United States have a lower life expectancy and higher infant mortality rate than a number of other countries?
9. Describe immigration into the United States and the issues it raises.
10. What is the age structure of a population? Explain how it affects population growth and economic growth.
11. Describe the American Baby Boom and some of the effects it has had on American culture.
12. What are some problems related to rapid population declines due to an aging population?
13. How has the AIDS epidemic affected that age structure of some countries in Africa?
14. What is the demographic transition and what are its four stages?
15. What factors could hinder some developing countries from making this transition?
