2. Conversion of water into liquids	a. Condensation
3. Separating butter from curd	c. Churning
4. Sedimentation	b. Settling of heavier components at bottom

Section B

Q5. Answer the following questions in 30-40 words.

1. Decantation is a process, of separation of insoluble solids from liquid. The suspension of solid particles in liquid is allowed to stand for some time. The solid particles then settle down at the bottom of the container and clean water goes up. Without disturbing the settled particles, the clean water is transferred into other container.
 - (i) Decantation is used to separate insoluble solids or liquid from liquid. Rain water is a mixture of mud and water. It is purified by decantation.
 - (ii) Oil and water also get separated by this method because oil floats up.
2. Since oil is lighter than water, it will float on it. Two distinct layers form, and oil is slowly allowed to flow into another container, where it is separated from the water. This method to separate oil and water is called a separating funnel.
3. Winnowing is the process of separating heavier components of a mixture from lighter components using wind. This method is used to separate grains from the husk after the threshing process.
 1. A combination of sedimentation and decantation is used to separate sand and water.
 2. A mixture of sand and water is taken in a glass/container and left for some time. Sand settles at the bottom of the container during this process because it is heavier. This is called sedimentation.
