of element level bridge inspection data for all National Highway System bridges in addition to the National Bridge Inspection condition rating data. Ultimately the data collected during element level bridge inspections should satisfy the requirements of the Federal Highway Administration and MAP 21 and be utilized by INDOT to evaluate bridge condition, predict deterioration and guide decision making. The objective of this project is to develop recommendations for element level bridge inspection techniques, data collection and inspector training based on a survey of INDOT peer agencies and a literature review of existing research and bridge inspection guidance. In order to collect consistent and reliable data, a rigorous inspector training program and detailed quality control procedures are necessary. INDOT must provide inspectors with the tools to be successful, including clearly defined expectations and instructions, comprehensive training and technical support, and effective inspection equipment. Similarly, robust quality control measures and periodic performance testing should be implemented to improve inspection quality and assess the agency's performance.

Bridge Inspection Practices George Hearn, National Cooperative Highway Research Program, 2007

This synthesis reports bridge inspection practices in the United States and selected foreign countries. The synthesis is a collection of information on formal inspection practices of departments of transportation (DOTs). These are primarily visual inspections and they provide data to bridge registries and databases. For U.S. inspection practices, this synthesis reports on inspection personnel, inspection types and inspection quality control and quality assurance. Staff titles and functions in inspection programs are reported together with qualifications and training of personnel, formation of inspection teams and assignment of teams to bridges. Inspection types are described in terms of their scope, methods and intervals. Quality control and quality assurance programs are reviewed in terms of the procedures employed, staff involved, quality measurements obtained and the use of quality findings in DOT inspection programs. Foreign practices are presented in the same organization of inspection personnel types and quality programs. Comparisons of U.S. and foreign inspection practices are included. Information was obtained from a questionnaire sent to U.S. state transportation departments, similar questionnaires modified individually for transportation agencies in selected foreign countries, and formal documents used by transportation departments and agencies. These documents primarily included bridge inspection manuals, inspection training manuals and technical memoranda, but also included blank forms for inspections, DOTs job descriptions for inspectors and descriptions of inspection training courses. Overall, this synthesis includes information from forty U.S. state transportation departments and from roads agencies in eight foreign nations: Denmark, France, Finland, Germany, Norway, South Africa, Sweden, and the United Kingdom. The synthesis also includes in an appendix information from a few provincial and municipal transport agencies in Canada.
