Geriatric Emergency Care, An Issue of Clinics in Geriatric Medicine, E-Book Maura Kennedy, Shan Liu, 2023-10-06

In this issue of Clinics in Geriatric Medicine guest editors Drs Maura Kennedy and Shan Liu bring their considerable expertise to the topic of Geriatric Emergency Care. Top experts in the field cover critical topics or concepts in geriatric emergency medicine and topics for which there is new research including guidance on geriatricizing the ED and ED observation unit, caring for persons with dementia and examining the intersection of DEI and care of an aging population. Contains 13 relevant practice oriented topics including the aging process, physiologic changes and frailty, elder abuse and neglect, recognition and management in the emergency department, best practices in end of life and palliative care in the ED, falls and other trauma in the older adult and more. Provides in depth clinical reviews on geriatric emergency care offering actionable insights for clinical practice. Presents the latest information on this timely focused topic under the leadership of experienced editors in the field. Authors synthesize and distill the latest research and practice guidelines to create clinically significant topic based reviews.

Race, Education, and Reintegrating Formerly Incarcerated Citizens John R. Chaney, Joni Schwartz, 2017-07-18. This timely readable text offers an authoritative and balanced analysis of how racially driven policies in America impact post release education as a leading pathway to social reintegration. Compelling research findings from an assemblage of college faculty, seasoned administrators and criminal justice professionals are interwoven with first person narratives from formerly incarcerated individuals. This book takes full advantage of its interdisciplinary mixture of voices and positionality to build its argument upon a three part framework from Critical Race Theory (CRT). It convincingly utilizes the tools of academic research, counterstories and counterspaces to make a persuasive case that the intersection of race, the criminal justice system and education represent one of the greatest civil rights issues of our time.

Part 1: Context: Critical Race Theory and College Re-Entry explores the historical and current dynamics of these uniquely American intersections while linking Critical Race Theory with the field of re-entry and offering serious analysis of post incarceration and education initiatives. Interest, convergence, white privilege and writing from returning citizens as a way of coming to voice are also explored in this section.

Part 2: Counterstories offers case comparative case and phenomenological studies that include embedded quotations with first person narratives contributed from formerly incarcerated students and graduates. This section also includes an honest and gripping analytic auto ethnography from the book's co-editor who readily reveals his experiences as both a faculty member and formerly incarcerated individual. Other highlighted topics include the issues of stigma, overcoming obstacles in the classroom and the unique problems for returning citizens when acclimating to college culture. Combining qualitative research and descriptions of successful programs.

Part 3: Counterspaces explores the dynamics of creating places within programs and classrooms that support physical, emotional, spiritual and intellectual engagement for and with the formerly incarcerated through learner centered, culturally sensitive and racially explicit pedagogy. This book is designed to be a most welcome addition to any serious academic discussion focusing upon institutionalized racism and education's use as a tool in reversing the mass incarceration of people of color in America Swimming Upstream: Black Males in Adult Education Dionne Rosser-Mims, Joni Schwartz, Brendaly Drayton, Talmadge C.
