

Energy Skate Park Activity!

Braden Haag

Skateboarding started as a way for surfers to kill time when the waves were not high enough for surfing has turned into an organized, competitive sport that boasts internationally known athletes and a million dollar industry. One way physics comes into play in the half-pipe is with the principle of conservation of energy. This activity explored the relation between Kinetic and Potential energy in a half-pipe.

Play with the sim for a few minutes: adding track, resetting the skater when he falls off the track, resetting the track, etc. Be sure to try out all the settings and tools to get familiar with all the things that the simulation can do. Then answer the questions below.

1. Without friction on, does the skater hit the same height on the opposite sides of the track? (Use the "pause" button and the measuring tape to help you determine this!) (2 pts)

yes

Now, turn on the energy Pie Chart, Energy vs. Position Graph, and Bar Graph. (You may need to move things around a little to see everything.)

2. On all three visual aids, what color represents potential energy and which is kinetic energy? (2 pts)

Blue

3. When does the skater have the highest amount of kinetic energy? When does the skater have the lowest amount of kinetic energy? (2 pts)

When he is in the bottom of the track he has the most kinetic energy. He has the least when at the tops of either side of the track.

4. When does the skater have the highest amount of potential energy? When is the skater's potential energy the lowest? (2 pts)

Highest potential energy is achieved at the top of either side of the track. The lowest is at the bottom of the track.

5. At the top of the track, CALCULATE the skater's potential energy relative to the bottom of the track if his mass is 75 kg? SHOW ALL WORK (5 pts)

$$GPE = mgh \quad (75)(9.8)(3.85)$$

$$GPE = 2829.75 \text{ J}$$
