

Coulomb's Law

1. The diagram is of a hydrogen atom.
- Label the proton in the nucleus with a + sign and the orbital electron with a - sign.
 - The electrical interaction between the nucleus and the orbital electron is a force of _____ (attractive) (repulsive).
 - According to Coulomb's law,

$$F = k \frac{q_1 q_2}{r^2}$$

if the charge of either the nucleus or the orbital electron were greater, the force between the nucleus and the electron would be _____ (greater) (less).

and if the distance between the nucleus and electron were greater the force would be _____ (greater) (less).

If the distance between the nucleus and electron were doubled, the force would be _____ (1/4 as much) (1/2 as much) (two times as much) (4 times as much).

2. Consider the electric force between a pair of charged particles a certain distance apart. By Coulomb's law:

- If the charge on one of the particles is doubled, the force is _____ (unchanged) (halved) (doubled) (quadrupled).
- If instead the charge on both particles is doubled, the force is _____ (unchanged) (halved) (doubled) (quadrupled).
- If instead the distance between the particles is halved, the force is _____ (unchanged) (halved) (doubled) (quadrupled).
- If the distance is halved, and the charge of both particles is doubled, the force is _____ times as great.

Theoretical Nursing Afaf Ibrahim Meleis, 2011 An additional assumption was that the processes for theory development were new to nursing and hence nurses in graduate programs learned strategies for advancing knowledge from other disciplines This assumption was debunked with the knowledge that nurses were always engaged in knowledge development driven by their experiences in clinical practice Because of these assumptions most of the early writing about theory development was about outlining strategies that should be used rather than strategies that have already been used in the discipline to develop theories Theorists themselves did not uncover or adequately discuss ways by which they developed their theories therefore the tendency was to describe processes that were based on theories developed in other disciplines mainly the physical and social sciences And an implicit assumption was made that there should be a single strategy for theory development some claiming to begin the process from practice and others believing it should be driven by research Provided by publisher
