Reaction Paper Example: Communication in Relationships Essay

As social beings, humans tend to form different relationships with other people, other than those that exist as a result of familial ties. In addressing the role and vitality of communication in any relationship, I will refer to my relationship with my wife since I believe that it provides a good example of how communication influences relationships. My wife and I have been married for 28 years and have been blessed with three beautiful daughters whom we love. Our marriage has been through numerous upheavals and it is through communication that we have been able to resolve issues and maintained our marriage for this long. It is thus important for me to look deeply into the role that communication has played in my marriage in terms of enhancing my perception of self and others, developing my self-presentation, my verbal and non-verbal communication abilities and my emotions and dealing with conflict in general.

Different aspects of communication determine their impact on an individual. Having been in a relationship for as long as 28 years, the aspect of dual perspective has been important in limiting my self-centeredness and learning to view situations from the other person point of view. I recall this one time when my wife and I were faced with the dilemma of whether or not to enroll our youngest daughter for emergent learning. I felt that hiring a nanny who doubled as a tutor would be best, but my wife felt that a school setting would be suitable for our child based on the resources that such an environment provided. However, after talking to my wife at length, I realized that she wanted our daughter to develop a variety of skills through interaction, to make her transition easier. This was one of the experiences that trained me to assess both points of perspectives rather stick to my own view. Additionally, the past few years has seen us commit to ethical and effective communication to ensure that the information we pass is well-received and understood. This component of communication entails honesty and requires that the other party pays attention and is respectful as communication occurs. When my wife was considering going back to school, I took it upon myself to pay attention to her concerns and was able to give her my honest opinion regarding how she would be able to juggle between family, school and work. I advised her to study part-time, as I felt that being honest would make it easier for us to reach a conclusion.

Both situations have been useful in enhancing my sense of perception during communication, and have allowed me to understand where my partner is coming from based on the message that she passes when communicating. Additionally, the concept of perception also arises in situations when we have to distinguish between facts and inferences. The hazy line between understanding and misunderstanding exists as a result of these two factors and how they are interpreted subjectively. At one time, I accused my wife of being flirtatious with one of her workmates by being overfriendly, only for me to later realize that she was helping her friend through mourning the loss of his child. This experience helped me to be able to value the differences that separated a fact from an inference.

Communication between my wife and I has been imperative in promoting personal growth by providing situations that address the self. The provision of constructive criticism has encouraged positive growth for both of us and has encouraged us to be open to each other, hence providing a chance for self-disclosure. At one time, I remember telling my wife that my inability to call the plumber as she had requested only arose from my insecurity to feel emasculated. She was more
